

Safety Sunday with the San Jose Cyber Rays

Sunday, June 8th - 3:00pm

On Sunday, June 8th the Office of Traffic Safety (OTS) kicked off its 2003 Sports & Entertainment Marketing Program by proudly teaming up with the San Jose Cyber Rays during "Safety Day at Spartan Stadium."

The OTS and the California Highway Patrol joined together in a number of activities. During the event the Crash Test Dummies, Vince and Larry, and CHP mascot, CHiPper, distributed traffic safety information and reminded Cyber Rays fans to stay safe on the streets of San Jose. Additionally, the trio gave out glow-in-the-dark necklaces and writing pens that reminded game-goers to "Always buckle-up!"

During the opening ceremonies representatives from the California State Automobile Association (CSAA) presented awards to the OTS, CHP and San Jose Police Department for their outstanding work in the field of traffic safety. Cyber Rays fans cheered from the stands as OTS Acting director, Christopher Murphy, and CHP Captain Michael Marlett journeyed onto the field to accept the grand CSAA award.

The game soon got underway as junior soccer league player Kristen Mickey conducted the ceremonial “first kick” that signaled the start of the Cyber Rays vs. New York Power matchup.
